Baseball Notes.

Winning twice and scoring 45 times.
While the Clevelands defeated the Washingtons in twelve of the fourteen games played between the two teams, Tebeau's players had no easy time with the Senators, as the Western men won all but one of the twelve games by 4 or less runs. All told the Clevelands scored 84 runs and the Washingtons 64.

Clevelands scored 85 runs and the Washingtons 54.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 19.—A meeting of the baseball managers of Virginia was held to-day at the Atlantic Hotel hers. W. B. Bradley of Richmond, L. Lazarus of Petersburg, William Brady of Fortsmouth and Harvey Cunningham of Norfolk were present. The old State League was revived and it is doubtful if any of the Virginia cities will be members of the Atlantic League next season. An unprofiable season led to the action of to-day. Nothing decisive, it is said, was done except as to the formation of a State League. The incetting however, was not public, and only by authority of the managers is this report of the proceedings made.

NEW YORK, 2: ST. LOUIS, 1. It was a pitchers' battle at the Polo Grounds yesterday, and Seymour carried off the bulk of the honors. A very small crowd turned out, and there was little or no enthusiasm. Seymour held the St. Louis Browns down to two singles and a run which would not have been scored if Grady had caught Stenzel's fly in the eighth inning. Seymour also had the honor of striking out eight men and scoring the winning run in the seventh by lining a two-bagger to eft, taking third on Tucker's error, and countlet, taking third on Tucker's error, and counting on Warner's force. Just why the Browns idd not play for the plate in this instance is beyond comprehension. Grady scored the other run for the New Yorks in the fourth inning on a hit, an out, a fine steal of third, and Gleason's single. Hughey pitched spiendidly, but he was handicapped by his team's light hitting. The fielding on both sides was brilliant, Foster and Warner making star plays. The score:

The Pittsburgs and Brooklyns indulged in a double header and broke even at Washington Park yesterday afternoon. Considering that the home team was without a regular third baseman and centre fielder, the don spectators were satisfied. The first game seemed hopelessly lost when the Brooklyns took their eighth turn at the lat, but by driving Tannehill's curves to safe territory they tied the score. After the Pittsburgs had broken the tie in the minth inning, the Brooklyns pulled out a victory. Gray tried to repeat his bull-dosing tactics of last Saturday, but came to grief. Umpire Hunt ordering him to the bench. The first game consumed so much time that only five innings of the second contest could be played. Miller lacked control and was hit hard when he succeeded in finding the plate. Two double plays by the home team were timely and kept the visitors' score down. Dunn's pretty throw from deep centre field, which doubled up McCreery at third, was one of the features. Hallman also made a tew good stops. The scores: The Pittsburgs and Brooklyns indulged in a ALPEN'S YOUTHFUL STAKES. LOUISVILLE. THE PLEISCHMANN CRACK AN EAST WINNER AT GRAVESEND.

in a Grand Bace — L'Alouette Shows a Flash of Her Two-Year-Old Form— Prompt Starts and Satisfactory Bacing. Something approaching a record in the matter of promptness was established by the start-er at Gravesend track yesterday afternoon. Each field was despatched without delay and the candidates for the last race were in front of the barrier at 4:30 o'clock. The weather was faultiess for an outing and a growd of average proportions visited the Brooklyn Jockey Club's popular inclosure. Three favorites got home in front and two of the other races went to wellplayed second choices. Clawson piloted two winners: Maher a first and two seconds: Spencer, one first, one second and one third; Burns, one first and one third, and Littlefield one first, so that the rival jookeys fared almost as well as speculative patrons.

Chief interest centred in the Youthful Stakes, a selling dash of five and a half fur-longs for two-year-olds. Nine youngsters accepted the issue, and Alpen, with Maher up, ruled a strong favorite, with King Barleycorn next in demand. The Fleischmann coit slipped his field after two furlongs, and won easily by a length from Lady Lindsey, who was four lengths clear of Mr. Phinizy. The latter only got up in time to beat Satirist a head. General attention was also focused on the one-mile race for mares of all ages, as it brought together the two great rivals, Irish Reel and Briar Sweet, as well as Alice Fariey and Fast Black. Admirers of Briar Sweet were agreeably surprised to find that they could secure 4 to 5 for their money, as Irish Reel with a three-pound pull on the scale weights, had a strong following, who played her down from 8 to 5 to 6 to 5. Burns at once took the had a strong following, who plaved her down from 8 to 5 to 8 to 5. Burns at once took the crack Sir Modred filly out and let her race siong in front to the last furiong pole. Here I rish Reel, who had been waiting in second place, made her bid, and drew up almost level, but Briar Sweet railied gamely under Burns's vigorous rousing, and won by a length and a half. Alice Farley showed no speed to the stretch, but she then came along and easily beat Fast Black for third money. The winner recled off her mile in 1:41, the fastest time of the meeting, and she is regarded as one of the best fillies seen out in recent years. This made her eighth successive victory.

Wholesale withdrawais reduced the field for the first race to four, and of these Prestdigitatrice was played to odds-on. She made all the running, but tired toward the end, and only squeezed home a head in front of Bangor, on whom Maher made a desperate bid. An average field of ten turned out for the all-aged handicap at a mile, and despite his weak pipes, Murillo was heavily played to win. Filament made the running for a quarter, when Bensational rushed past. He led almost to the wire, but in the final drive Fonsovannah got up and won by a neck. Bansatar ran away from his field in the fifth race, and won easily by two lengths from The Winner, on whom Pittsburg Phil made one of his typical plunges. The closing event developed into a grand drive home between half a dozen sprinters, but last year's Futurity winner, L'Alouette, managed to pull through by half a length. The others were necks apart. $3.91.58 to be devoted to the furtherance of athleties in this district during the ensuing season. John P. Boyle of the Pastime Athletic Club then raised the question of the evening. As President of the Pastime Athletic Club, he reported that his organization, an incorporated club, had applied to the Board of Police Commissioners for a license to hold amateur boxing competitions, and the application had been returned marked "Denied," without any explanation or reason attached. The Pastime representative asked the meeting to take measures to ascertain if a duly organized and incorporated amateur athletic club had any rights under the Horton law. He wished the association to make a test case by having one of its members apply for a license to hold boxing bouts, and if denied to carry the case to the Supreme Court for decision. The members appointed the following committee to Investigate the status of amateur clubs under the Horton law. Bartow 8. Weeks, John P. Boyls, H. Obertulessing, and J. J. Frawley. The meeting adopted the constitution of the association as revised by the A. A. U. This action shult out a number of would-be magnates, but after nominations were closed the following passed successfully through the ordeal of election:

TROTTING AND PACING. Opening Day of the New England Breeders'

Meeting. READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 19.-The races of the first

READVILLE, MERSO, Sept. 19.—11se races of the first day of the Breeders' meeting, while sharply con-tested, were somewhat of a disappointment, particu-larly the New England Futurity, both trotting and pacing, in both of which there was a very small entry list. The two big races on the card, the Tyro entry list. The two big races on the card, the Tyro, 2:40 class tretting, and the 2:11 class pacing, brought out some excellent sport said fast time. The black mare Edna Simmons had a fairly easy time of it in the first race, winning in three out of four heats. The 2:11 class pacing went to Helena Duplex. She went badly in the first two heats, and Nellie Bruce walked off with them. Demarest got her nicely steaded down in the third heat, and she took the heat and the next two in hollow shape. The 2:10 class trotting was postponed until to-morrow. The summaries:

Easy Wins at Terre Haute.

Easy Wins at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 19.—The racing the opening day of the meeting was not up to the reputation of the track. The attendance was no larger than on former first days, notwithstanding the reduction of the price of admission. The track was not fast, but the winners were not driven out. The lesson of the day is that early closing stake races are not productive of hig fields or close contests. In the 2:40 trot Dick Wilson's Robert Patchen was an even favorite against the field, but he was not good to-day, and after the second heat was drawn. Levie May, who took the first heat, is a new performer, and is a candidate for the Three-Year-Old Futurity. Will Lane, who won the race, has started before, but to-day makes his first record. CITY RIDING ROUTES. Contractors-Troubles of a Woman Cy-clist After a Day's Shopping-President Clausen on the Rules of the Road-Notes.

Macadam, the man whose name is now used for the characterization of so many roads, both good and bad, once made a remark that has ome a maxim in the engineering world. He "Any stone that I cannot put into my mouth I would not put into a road." In this way he set a standard that, theoretically, has been accepted ever since. Practically, matters are different. Some of the atones that enter into e composition of the macadam roads could not be negotiated by a dime museum boot awalwer. The stones used in building the macadam roads of the city are supposed to pass through screens that determine the maximum limit, but at a private conference yesterday be-tween some members of the Consulate it was greed that many of the stones now being used in macadam roads are far in excess of the reglation dimensions, and it was alleged that some of the stone being used was refuse stuff that contractors managed to work past inspection, although previously rejected by the city Cases have been known where wheelmen failed to reach home in proper shape at the expected time because they attempted to carry too much. In such cases it has been liquid overburdened the men. The other side of the story was somewhat humorously pictured yesterday when a woman came to grief in the shopping district through trying to carry too much dry goods. She looked like an imitation of Santa Claus awheel as she moved uncertainly along the street. There were bundles to the right of her, bundles to the left of her, bundles in front of her and-worse predicament than that of the Light Brigaderustling. All that she could stow away was fastened to the bicycle. There was a curious carrying pouch of large dimensions in front and a camera carrier behind, both doing duty to their utmost capacity, which served to make the wheel swerve unsteadily, while on the ends of the handle bars were awung minor packages. Beyond all this, which made it certain that she had not gone out to buy anything but only to "shop," she carried a narrow package under her arm. Rather, that was what she tried to do, for it was this smallest bundle of the lot that brought her to grief. Fifth avenue was crowded with cable cars, cabs and other vehicles. She dodged them and crossed the car tracks elevdodged them and crossed the car tracks eleverly. She was safely across when a big dog ran in front of her whee! She lurched sharply, and as she did so let fall the bundle under her arm. In a spasmodic effort to keep it from falling she removed one hand from the grip while the wheel was still careening unsteadily. She swung clear around as if on a pivot and then, safely out of harm near the curb, she sat down on a broken package of tooth or face powder with bursted bundles exposing knick-knacks of all kinds scattered over herself and wheel. Nothing was damaged except the white powder, and the paper on some of the bundles, and possibly her skirt, but she did not arrive home in proper mood at appointed time, because of having tried to carry too much.

President Clausen of the Park Department President Clausen of the Park Department, speaking to a member of the local organization of the L. A. W. relative to the accident on the Speedway last Saturday, said that the rules of the road are not enforced on the Speedway, and that as matters now stand he is helpless, because the police are not under the jurisdiction of the Park Department, but all are detailed and Instructed by the Police Department. Those who have seen some of the police who could not tell exactly the difference between a bicycle, a racing sulky and a furniture van, appreciate the significance of this remark by the Park Commissioner. It is this class of officer who arrests a cyclist because his light has just blown out and lets a hundred lampless carriages whirl by.

At the celebration of the battle of Antietam, At the celebration of the battle of Antietam, which was held on last Saturday at Prospect Park, a novelty in the way of applause was introduced. Several hundred cyclists gathered about the music stand, and stood at ease beside their wheels. After every feature of the programme that elicited applause the wheel riders clanged their bells in unison, which was musical if not rhythmic. The ringing reached a volume of sound that almost entirely drowned the hand clapping.

It was repair day in the Greater City vastar.

It was repair day in the Greater City yesterday. Gangs of men went to work fixing some of the most shameful streets in various parts of the city. It was patchwork almost entirely that was inaugurated, but it will greatly improve the conditions that have existed. The trench at 102d street on the kingsbridge road is being filled in, and this is one of the worst places in Manhattan. In Brooklyn work was begun on several asphalted thoroughtares, notably Bedford avenue, from Myrtle up, and Clinton street from Fulton. The work consists of filling the deen dangerous holes that at night looked like wells, but the general lumpiness of the asphalted avonues remains unimproved. Another place that has been a grievous annoyance to wheelmen is at the Sea Breeza evenue crossing of the Coney Island cycle path. This is practically at the end of the path, and the trolley tracks there, now unused, have been projecting an inch or two above the level. The work of making this place smooth was also begun yesterday. A wheelman residing on Bodford avenue tells of a droll remark that his daughter, who had been annoyed all day by the smoke and the noise and the smell of tar, made to a visiting nephew, who, looking out of the window last night, saw the watchman sitting beside the steam roiler, smoking his pipe. The boy asked why he was there, and the young woman replied. "He is on guard to prevent their doing the work too quickly." It was repair day in the Greater City yester-

A man who has charge of a number of racing cyclists says that after the National Circuit meet at St. Louis on Oct. St. the circuit chasers will all remain West and will enter in the Sunday races at Milwaukee, Denver and cities on the Pacific coast. This, of course, will cause their suspension by the Racing Board, and in case the suspended tracks should not choose to ray up and be reinstated during the winter senson when there is nothing doing, there will be a fine list of crack racers and tracks outside the breastworks of the League by the time it has its national assembly in February. The Logue's "control" of racing will then be limited to a few poor tracks and some second rate professionals, besides the amateurs, and if the discussion of keeping or abandoning control of racing comes up, the delegates will probably talk a long time about giving up something that is not possessed. It would be a partial solution of the dilemma to pass by a two-thirds vote an amendment to the constitution permitting local option in the different States on the question of Sunday racing, but this year the amendment was introduced at the St. Louis convention and a hard fight made for it, without its supporters coming anywhere near to getting the necessary vote. Next time, when the assembly is to be held in the East, it would seem more unlikely that such a resolution could go through. From the present point of view the prospect is that when spring arrives there will be precious few racing men, tracks, or promoters heeding the dictates of the L. A. W., in case that organization decides to keep up its pretense of being sole arbiter and paying facing Board salaries instead of devoting itself to road improvement, legislative agitation, touring and other things calculated to draw into its ranks the hundreds of thousands who believe in such things and nover saw a bicycle race. The anti-racing representatives of the L. A. W. is a ra Roundsman Lake, who is temporarily at the head of the new bloycle police squad in Brooklyn, said to a Sux reporter yesterday that the plan outlined in The Bux of having the "copa" on the Coney Island cycle path patrol in both directions was excellent and one that had already been suggested by him. Lake's idea is that if he remains in charge he will put two men on each path, divide each path into two posts of 2% miles each, and let the men go up and down on their posts, so that there may be times when they are riding against the tide. The first Sunday for the new squad resulted in only five arrests, all for scorching, although the twenty-two men patrol the city from Coney Island to Greenpoint and from the Queens county line to the Grand street ferry.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 10.—The Allentown Fair opened to-day with a big first-day crowd in attendance and bieyele races as the principal attraction. The wind blew at a velocity of forty miles an hour, and for most of the time the riders were lost in clouds of dust, making anything like fast time impossible. Flugger Bill Martin took the one-mile professional race, and Charles H. Henzel won the two-mile professional handican. In these two events some of the fast ones were left behind. Of the three amateur events flay Dawson of Boonton, N. J., took one and Ray L. Arner of Phillipsburg two. The races were well contested. Summaries:

The Eastern District Wheelmen present carried off their champion in triumph.

Over 100 riders participated in the open century run of the Montauk Wheelmen of Brooklyn on Bunday, sixteen of whom were women. Eleven of the women riders came through all right and very few of the riders succumbed. Martin Bossel and J. Mayer paesed the fast division, allowing a two-hour start to the alow division, which was paced by Capt. G. W. James and President Grimm.

The Hoyal 'coanum Wheelmen of Eings country will hold their anniversary plonic at Jamaica this afterneon and evening. A ten-mile road race will be the chief feature. It will be started at 6 octock.

Harvard's Players Begin Practice.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 19 .- The first practice of the candidates for Harvard's football eleven was held on Soldiers' Field this afternoon. Capt. Diblee came to Cambridge early this morning, but Coach Forbes did not put in an appearance until the squad was almost ready to go on the field. Besides head coach Forbes, W. H. Lewis, the famous ex-centre, who has but lately returned from Cuba; Gonterman, '96, and Bouve, of last year's teams, were on hand to assist. The work this afternoon was fully as severe as that at the beginning of practice last year. The men began practice, for five minutes, in falling on the ball. Then the centres, quarters, and full backs were put at the ordinary kick from a snap back; the line men mean-kick from a snap back; the line men meanwhile were formed into two elevens and worked at breaking through and falling on the ball.

Then a long run clear around the field ended their labors.

Coach Forbes and his aids spent the rest of the afternoon in coaching Reid, Haughton and Diblee in punting, and Daly, Finke and T.
Hatch in catching. Reid's exhibition of punting was the best seen here since Charley

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 19 .- Football candidates got together for the first time this season in regular prac-tice here this afternoon. There were about forty in the squad, including the ends, who have been with have been with Walter Camp at Kennebunkport, Mc., and the linesmen, who reported here yes-terday. For three days the candidates have been arriving. This morning the first work of the season was done in the "gym" lot. The first code of signals of the season was given out and Capt. Cham-berlin picked out the first eleven to be drilled as a Yale team this year. It was as follows: Centre, Durston; guards, Richards and Young; tackles, Paul Thompson and Clark; ends, Eddy and Walker; quar ter back, Sullivan; halves, Dudley and Corwin; full back, McBride.

ter back, Sullivan; halves, Dudley and Corwin; full back, McBride.

This afternoon Chamberlin took his men to the Yale yard for another hour's practice. De Saulies, last year's quarter back, arrived at noon and assisted him in coaching. The arrived at noon and assisted him in coaching. The arrived at noon and assisted him in coaching. The arrival of De Saulies throttled the rumors that he will be disqualified by reason of low stand in his studies this fall. He will be gip practice to morrow. This afternoon Capt. Chamberlin put an eleven in the field, which included five boy list year's freshmen team. Capt. Chamberlin sworking the veterans Dudley, McBride, Henjamin, Sullivan and Post into the game at the very outset in order that a good accree he made and a stiff defense shown against Trinity in the opening game at Hartford on Saturday. An hour's practice in the broiling sun this afternoon completely exhausted the players. The two elevens formed did not time up against each other, but simply ran through their plays, the signals including directions for only straight foothall. Tomorrow morning more individual practice will be taken in the "gym" lot and to-morrow afternoon the first practice game of the season will be played at the Vale field between two picked elevens. This programme will be kept up all the week.

The Football Outlook at Ithaca.

ITHACA, Sept. 19,-About fifty candidates for Cornell's 'varsity football team were hard at work on Percy Field this afternoon, being put through the preliminary stages of the game by the coaches. The coaches this year are Gienn S. Warner, '94, who was so successful with the Cornell cleven last year, and Thomas Feunell, '96, who last year coached the University of Cincinnati. Warner is, of course, head coach. He was appointed last year by Joe Beacham, who cannot assist this year on account of being with the Astor Battery in the Philippines. Aglance at the candidates shows many of the experienced players of last year's eleven missing. On the line are ers of last year's eleven missing. On the line are left only Lucder and Reid, at right tackie and guard. Both ends will have to be filled in, as will centre and left tackie and guard. There were last year such a large number of substitutes that with the new material that turns up each year a good line can be made. The men on the line, in prosucet, will average between 170 and 180 pounds. For back of the line Capt. Whiting and Windsor of the regular 'varsity remain, with substitute Schliecher. Charley Young, Cornell's star combination quarter and full back, will not play this year. This is a serious loss. For quarter back, however, his younger brother, George Young, is doing fine work. The position of full back has also to be filled, and will turnish the hardest problem for the coaches to solve. Perkins, who last year played that position in close formation and when Young was passing the ball, will not play this fall, his parents objecting.

Practice on Franklin Field.

PRILADELPHIA, Sept. 19 .- Pennsylvania footballists came to Franklin Field this afternoon to take their afternoon's practice. Many of the students who have already returned to the university were out to get an eye on the new material. Coach Woodruff lined up the following players for signal and play formation practice: Overfield, centre; Hare, left guard; McCracken, right guard; Carnett, left tackle; guard; McCracken, right guard; Carnett, left tackle; McMahon, right tackle; Folwell, left end, and Hedges, right end; Gardiner, quarier; Outland, right half back; Harrison, left half back, and Walker, full back.

The above players are the ones most likely to represent Fennsylvania in her fary game of the season, Coach Woodruff demonstrated how he wished his new signals to be used, and showed the new men how to form interference in simple style of play which will be used in Saturday's game.

First Football Practice at Princeton. PRINCETON, Sept. 19.-Football practice at Princeton began this afternoon with only a small number of candidates out. Capt. Hillsbrand and Christy put the men through an hour of light work on the field, mainly punting and falling on the ball. This was followed by a cross-country run of three miles, which the men atood very well considering the heat. The number of candidates as practice to-day was ascessarily small, as the university will not open until Wednesday and many men who will try for the team have not yet arrived in Franceton.
